Dear So and So,

I am applying for the best job ever working with the best people. You need to hire me cause I'm the best.

I've done everything that a person can do, and I did it all well. I am the perfect candidate and I am including a list of all the great stuff I've done.

Thank you in advance for your consideration of my application. I welcome the opportunity to discuss the position and my qualifications further. Please feel free to contact me with any questions.

Sincerely

Will McFadden
